I am sure you will agree - websites are now an important part of any organisation's marketing mix! But most websites do not deliver a result – they don't deliver sales!

In this workshop, David Kelly, founder of Zeald.com, will unlock the fundamentals behind every successful website and explore the techniques that can be used to increase the overall performance of any website on the planet!

David Kelly, CEO of Zeald.com will share with you the insights he has gained from 5 years of extensive research & working with 100's of NZ companies.

You will learn:

- The 4 key metrics that determine whether a website succeeds or fails
- The fundamental components behind every successful website
- What to look for when choosing a website designer
- The TMT approach to continual website improvement
- How to consistently increase your website results
- And ... what to work on first!

"Very comprehensive. David made a very daunting topic understandable & quite straightforward. Thank you!!"

Catherine Clark - Business & Marketing Analyst - Natural Health Laboratories

"Great information. Very helpful! A comprehensive seminar & an excellent presenter."

Johan Coetzee – CEO - Multiplicity
